

Tournament Rules

Official rules for all IAGL tournaments

These rules apply to every tournament on Indonesia Arcadia Gaming League. The specifics for each tournament — game, platform, format, entry fee, prize pool, and the schedule for each stage — are shown on that tournament's page and announced in the participant group. By registering, you agree to these rules.

Play for fun and respect. IAGL tournaments are friendly — they're about enjoying the game together, not serious competition. Play your best, be a good sport, and treat your opponents well.

1. Eligibility & account

- Open to registered IAGL members with a verified account.
- One account per player. Keep your gamer IDs (PSN, Xbox, Steam, Epic, Riot) up to date so opponents and admins can reach you.
- You must be reachable in the participant group for the whole tournament.

2. Registration & payment

- Register on the tournament page before the registration deadline.
- Transfer the entry fee to the official account, then upload your payment receipt on the tournament page.
- Admins verify payment within 1×24 hours; your slot is locked once confirmed.
- Refunds apply only if the tournament is cancelled by the organizer, or your payment fails verification. Voluntary withdrawal after confirmation is not refunded.

3. Format & bracket

- Once registration closes, the groups or bracket are drawn from the confirmed participants and shown on the tournament page.
- Formats: single elimination (knockout), or group stage + knockout (round-robin groups where the top finishers of each group advance). Each tournament states its format on its page.
- Match length (e.g. best-of) and in-game settings are announced per tournament.

4. Schedule & match appointments

This is how matches get played. Read it carefully.

- Each stage runs within a time window announced on the tournament page — for example, Group stage: 10–20 August.
- Before the tournament starts, admins invite every confirmed participant to the official match-coordination group.
- You arrange your own match time with your opponent, in the group, within that stage's window. Agree on a day and time together, then play.
- Every match must be completed before the stage window closes. Matches not played by then are ruled by admins (see section 6).
- Reach out to your opponent early — don't leave it to the last day of the window.

5. Playing & reporting results

- Play your match at the time you both agreed on.
- When you finish, take a photo of the final score.
- Send it to the admin: the photo, the final score, and who won.
- The admin enters the score, and the bracket and standings update automatically. If there's a disagreement, the admin decides.

6. No-shows, forfeits & deadlines

- If your opponent doesn't show at the agreed time, wait 15 minutes, then contact an admin in the group with proof.
- Admins may award the match as a walkover to the player who showed up.
- If a pair fails to schedule or play within the stage window, admins decide the outcome (walkover, forfeit, or a reschedule at their discretion).
- Repeatedly failing to show up or coordinate may lead to disqualification and forfeiting the entry fee.

7. Points & standings

- Placement earns season points, weighted by the tournament's tier (Minor ×1, Major ×2, Championship ×3) and the bracket size. Exhibition tournaments award no points.
- Season points feed the seasonal leaderboard and reset at the start of each season.

8. Conduct & fair play

- No cheating, hacking, exploiting bugs, account sharing, or smurfing.
- Be respectful in the group and in matches. Harassment or toxic behaviour is not tolerated.
- Admins may warn, penalize, disqualify, or ban at their discretion. Admin decisions are final.

9. Prizes

- The prize pool and how it's split are stated on each tournament's page, and awarded once results are finalized.
