INDONESIA ARCADIA GAMING LEAGUE

Privacy Policy

What we collect, why, and what you control

This Privacy Policy explains what Indonesia Arcadia Gaming League ("IAGL", "we", "us") collects when you create an account and take part in our tournaments, how it is used, and the choices you have. It applies to the IAGL site and every tournament we run.

1. What we collect

- Account details — the email address, display name and profile picture that your Google or Discord account shares with us when you sign in, plus the username you choose. IAGL has no passwords: we never receive, see or store one.
- Sign-in provider — the Google or Discord account identifier, so we can recognise the same account the next time you sign in.
- Contact details — your phone number, and your Instagram handle if you add one.
- Gamer IDs — the console and PC IDs you provide (PSN, Xbox, Steam, Epic, Riot) so opponents can find you in-game.
- Profile picture — the avatar image you upload, if any.
- Payment proof — the receipt image or PDF you upload when registering for a paid tournament.
- Tournament activity — which tournaments you enter, your registration status, match results and scores, and your season points.
- Technical data — a session cookie (`msl_session`), the browser description sent when you sign in, and sign-in timestamps.
- Consent record — the date and time you accepted the Terms & Conditions and this Privacy Policy when completing your profile.

2. Why we use it

- To create your account, keep you signed in, and keep the account secure.
- To run tournaments: verify your payment, place you in a bracket, record results, and rank you.
- So admins and opponents can reach you to agree a match time.
- To show your public player profile and leaderboard position.

3. What other people can see

Your username, avatar, main game, wins and losses, trophies and season points appear on the public leaderboard and player directory. Your email address, phone number, gamer IDs and payment receipts are never shown publicly.

4. Payment receipts

A receipt you upload is visible only to IAGL admins reviewing your registration. Please hide or black out anything on it that is not needed to confirm the payment — such as your full account number or your balance.

5. Who we share it with

- IAGL admins, who need it to run the tournaments you enter.
- Google and Discord, our sign-in providers. When you sign in, they confirm who you are and share your email address with us; how they handle your own account is covered by their privacy policies.
- We do not sell your data, and we do not share it for advertising.

6. How long we keep it

- Account and tournament records — while your account exists, so standings and history stay accurate.
- Sessions — 30 days. Signing out deletes that session straight away.

7. How we protect it

- There is no IAGL password to leak or guess. Signing in always goes through Google or Discord, so the protections on that account — such as two-step verification — protect your IAGL account too.
- Session tokens are stored hashed, so the value sitting in your browser cannot be looked up in our database.
- We only accept a sign-in when Google or Discord has verified the email address on the account, so nobody can reach your IAGL account with an email address they do not own.

8. Your choices

- Sign in with Google or Discord — whichever you prefer. Both open the same IAGL account when they use the same email address.
- Edit or correct your details any time from your Profile page, including removing your avatar.
- Ask us to delete your account and personal details. We may keep match results that past standings depend on, with your name removed where we can.
- Ask what we hold about you.

9. Younger players

IAGL is not aimed at children under 13. If you are under 18, get a parent or guardian's permission before taking part or paying an entry fee.

10. Changes and contact

We may update this policy; the version at the top of each page will change when we do. For any question or request about your data, contact an IAGL admin.

IAGL tournaments are community events played for fun. We ask for the least we need to run them fairly — nothing more.
